The death took place at her residence at Didsbury, on Sunday of Mrs. Roeth. The end came sudden, the deceased lady only being sick a few days. She was a member of the St. Evangelical Church, and was held in high esteem by the other members. She was 64 years of age. The funeral took place on Tuesday.

Two Sunday School Penies have taken place this week. The Evangelical held theirs on piece of ground north of town. The weather was not all that could be desired, but those present report a good time. The Presbyterian held theirs just east of town and it would have been a great success, had the weather clerk been kind. The afternoon was nice and fine, but towards suppertime a rainstorm broke over the district sending those at the picnic hurrying home.

The department of Agriculture is endeavoring to secure a share of the harvest help coming to the West this season. Arrangements have been made with the railway authorities to ticket a sufficient number of harvest hands to Alberta points to ensure a safe harvesting of the crop. The department will, if necessary, send a representative to Winnipeg in order to see that the province gets its fair quota of men, and to prevent as far as possible a larger number going to any one point than is necessary to meet the demand. As these men will only be ticketed to the station, farmers requiring help should leave their name and location with their nearest railway agent or arrange with friends in town to secure and send out to them the help they need.

A RIVAL'S DOWNFALL

Out of Bitterness the Lovers
Snatched Happiness.

By ESTHER AINSLEE.

(Copyright, 1920, Associated Literary Press.)

If Daisel's store advertised a sale of silk dress goods in the Monday issue of the Rosemont Banner it was a certainty that the paper's Tuesday night number would contain an ad. from Thompson's store across the street telling of bargains in satins, with a side line of embroideries, at which Rosemont smiled appreciatively and read the benefit.

The town was proud of the proprietors of the two leading dry goods stores, for most of the young men left for the adjacent big city when it came time to make their way in the world, but Malcolm Daisel and Lewis Thompson within a year of each other settled down to make a living in their home town.

Perhaps it were better to say Rosemont was proud of their enterprise, for Lewis Thompson was not the type to inspire affection in the hearts of his townsmen. A man cannot be blamed for lack of magnetism and an attractive nature, but nevertheless he suffers for it, and Thompson possessed besides these drawbacks a not heated, quarrelsome disposition and a theory that every man had a right to look out for himself to the exclusion of any possible rights of others.

His aggressiveness made him enemies where Malcolm Daisel won friends by his more cautious and diplomacy. But each flourished on his own side of the street.

Not only were their rivals in business, but from the days of carrying schoolbooks there had seemingly been but one girl in the world in the eyes of each, Miss Lily Walwright, with the waves of soft brown hair and eyes that matched, with the sweet voice and appealing little ways.

Shrewd people even said the reason both boys stayed in Rosemont was that each was afraid to leave the other a clear field with Milly, who had never shown any preference between the two.

Lewis Thompson was a different man with her. Her mere presence smoothed and softened the aggressive "uncle business" which he carried off inconspicuously when stories of his cold shrewdness and overbearing deals came to her ears.

Yet unknown to herself Malcolm Daisel occupied a place in her life from which no one could dislodge him. Milly was in the delicious and dreamy state of indecision which a girl always prolongs unwittingly. Life was sweet to her, and even the growing wildness of her younger brother, Dick, which was adding her father and mother, and not power to do more than depress her momentarily.

"It's only because Dick is young," she told her mother in her hesitancy. "He will see the mistake of his ways before he ever does anything really wrong. Why, Dick wouldn't do really bad."

She was great chums with the handsome eighteen-year-old brother, and because she did have faith in him the girl turned to her always in his rare spells of repentance. At present he had gone to work in a bank in the next town, six miles distant.

The Rosemont Banner had two columns of descriptions, speculation and denunciation when Thompson's store was robbed. Malefactors were rare in Rosemont, and the night watchman's work was perfunctory, but nevertheless Lewis Thompson discovered a back window pried open and nearly $200 worth of silks and laces missing.

Three weeks later he was reduced to explosive rage by the discovery that again his store had been entered. This time a hundred dollars' worth of goods vanished. In his wrath the owner of the store telegraphed for a city detective and established a night patrol for the block. The city detective looked important, smoked good cigars of the leading citizen, who wanted to tell him their theories as to the robbery, had a very pleasant time and departed with dark hints as to future developments.

"At any rate," Lewis Thompson said vigorously, "with Maloney on hand as a watchman the thief won't get another chance!"

"It's hard luck, Lewis," sympathized Malcolm Daisel with his business rival. Thompson regarded him coldly. Of late Milly had been in Daisel's company more than he liked.

"Think," he said, "it's funny the thief doesn't attack your premises, Malcolm. I don't understand such favoritism unless it's because he knows where the best goods are." He smiled somewhat maliciously as he made the fling.

"Superiority has its drawbacks, then," Daisel said quietly, holding his temper. He understood Thompson's grudge against him and could afford to be magnanimous, for he had begun to cherish a certainty that he had distanced Thompson with Milly. For her he would endure much.

Lewis Thompson did not relax his vigilance as the weeks went by. One Thursday night, as he made one of his personal trips of inspection, about 1 o'clock he awoke for his store on a run after finding the watchman, Maloney, knocked senseless at the corner. And he was rewarded. The revolver in his hand covered the dark form of the man standing at the rear window with the faint gleam of a dark lantern on the floor beside him.

Yet even Lewis Thompson was speechless when after his trembling fingers had turned on the rear light he saw the man before him was none other than Malcolm Daisel, who stood white and quiet facing his captor.

"I—I can't comprehend," Thompson almost stammered, still covering the man with his revolver. "You—of all people!"

The man before him moistened his lips. "Lewis," he said, "I know what you believe me if I say, in spite of this I'm not the robber—that it's just unfortunate circumstances that have brought this about? Will you?"

Lewis Thompson recovered his coolness, and he laughed shortly, sarcastically, glancing significantly at the dark gleam of the revolver in the hand which he held at hand for removal.

"I don't see any one but you, Daisel," he said curtly. "You've got to take your pistol out of my hand, or I'll shoot you, you know. Rising young business man, easy circumstances, no need to rob—why, of course, it's kleptomaniac!"

There was a little triumph edging into his laugh as that meant to his rival dawning upon him. And it was likewise dawning upon his captor, who said his jaw when he must, hastily summoned, almost refused to obey Thompson's command to take the prisoner to the jail.

"Good-night," he said, "I know that Malcolm Daisel would say, and he walked to the lockup with his head in the air. The whole town shared the sensations of Smith the next morning, and the Rosemont Banner exhausted all its heavy black faced type that evening and paused only for absence of more space. It was sensational, horrifying, this downfall of a man like Malcolm Daisel, one of those queer crumpers out of hidden tendencies that sometimes destroy the world's best.

The three days that intervened before his preliminary hearing drew lines in Daisel's face and gave him a pallor that usually it took weeks to bring. Yet he maintained those close shut lips and, further than stating he was not guilty, refused to talk.

When he faced his friends and neighbors at the preliminary hearing there was a trace of proud defiance in his glance that yet was strangely hurt, for on many faces he read a dawning warning in allegiance to him.

Much talk had bred suspicion, and every one knew of the long rivalry between the two men. What more natural that that Daisel should attempt to harass, to ruin his opponent? So they waited for the sensational disclosure. The sensation came. As usual with sensations, it was quite different from what was expected. This white faced girl, with eyes reddened by tears, who suddenly presented herself starkly from the heart of the hardest. She spoke rapidly, breathlessly.

"Malcolm did not do it!" she protested, with tight clasped hands. "If he won't tell me, now that I know the truth! It was Dick, my brother, and Malcolm, who also was watching, saw him and entered Thompson's store to save him, to get him away, to help him, and when Lewis Thompson came upon him—he, Malcolm, would not let because—"

Milly Walwright's voice died away, but the end of the sentence was furnished by Malcolm Daisel's quick step to her side and hiding her tears on his shoulder. Both had made their sacrifice for each other and out of the bitterness had snatched happiness. And Rosemont, with the fickleness of the human race, said it served Lewis Thompson right, and he should have had more common sense.

The Servant Problem, Plus. "But," says the lady of the house to the applicant, "you really should not ask such high wages from me when you consider the conveniences you when my house is equipped—electric cooking range, electric washing and ironing machines, vacuum sweepers and dusters, pneumatic parlor carriages and to all floors and rooms, phones and annunciators in each room, sanitary wall and floor finishes, filtered air, filtered water, antiseptic refrigerator—"

"Yes, ma'am," interrupts the applicant, "but the likes of you ought to know that a scientific expert draws a lot more money than a kitchen mechanic!"

Big Fleeting Island.

A feature of the celebration of the three hundredth anniversary of the discovery of Lake Champlain, to which the entire week of July 4 is to be devoted, will be an island made to order, built on barges and having real trees, rocks, grass, a stockade and Indian wigwams to be used by a party of nearly 200 Indians from Canada.

The Indians will take part in a sham battle, planned to represent with historical accuracy one of the conflicts between the forces of Champlain and the Iroquois. The Indians, in canoes, will come down the lake and land on broad "beaches" made of wooden wings hinged to the sides of the island. The pagan of Hiawatha, which the Indians will also present, is taken from their own legend, differing in some respects from that of Longfellow.

The island will be towed alongside for celebrations at various points.

Spontaneous Combustion. Spontaneous combustion can occur when oxidation causes the temperature to rise to the ignition point of the material. Spontaneous combustion of the human body is impossible on account of the heat regulating effect of the 75 or 80 per cent of water contained. The enormous heat necessary to dry the tissues sufficiently to destroy life long before ignition could take place. An old idea was that the alcohol in a confirmed drunkard might promote combustion, but Liebig showed that even if the body could give off inflammable vapor and this could become ignited the body itself would not be set on fire.

Her Proposal.

"You've been courting me now for a number of years, George," remarked a girl to a young man, "and I want to make a little leap year proposal."

"Who said anything about marriage?" interrupted the girl. "I was going to propose that you stop coming here and give somebody else a chance."—Philadelphia Inquirer.

In a Draper's Shop.

At a draper's shop in Leeds two engaged a small boy to run errands. The other day while he was waiting in the shop, a lady came in and asked the shop assistant for a yard of silk. When it was placed in front of her she exclaimed:

"Oh, really, I must be mad. I want mullin!"

On hearing this the boy rushed out of the shop and, seeing a policeman across the way, ran up to him, shouting:

"Come over quick! There's a girl in our shop gone mad. She wants mullin!"

Picnic's General

With the advent of midsummer, picnic's and lawn socials are again in full swing. To the children the Sunday School picnic is expected and longingly looked forward to for some months previous, and as the date fixed for this year's picnic draws near, they are in a continuous outburst of youthful glee. One proud youngster of perhaps seven or eight will let you know, a few dozen times in the course of a day, how he came in first in the foot races last year. Another will be so anxious that you fully understand that he won the jumping competition. The girls too will tell you that of all the fun that of playing in the fields and gathering wild flowers, is the very best. Why! they gathered Oil! such a lot last year.

The day at last arrives. With the sun the little ones are out of bed and make haste to the window to see if it's a fine day. Then there is a chorus of cries for mother. "Mother, mother this is picnic-day." "Where is my Sunday clothes" my clean collar, my new boots," and a dozen other things that children think are absolutely indispensable at a picnic. After a morning of hustling around, the faithful mother tells them it is time to go and, after giving the hair one more brush and the shoes an extra polish, off they go.

At the grounds a large number is present and, joy of joys, there's the booth, with the ice cream, lemonade, cake and lots of good things to eat.

Games are played, races are run, competitions are held, leaving the winners triumphantly proud. A pride that often lasts a life time.

Then comes the most important event of the day, supper.

Seated around a table cloth, spread upon the ground, decorated gorgeously with wild flowers, gathered from the prairie, and covered with heaps of things dear to children's heart—and stomach—they have a splendid supper, what nice cake, and this pie, and the tart, they all vanish one after another and when it is all over, there is a general opinion that it was grand.

After a few more games the setting sun tells them that it is time to be going home, so with happy smiling faces, and tired bodies, they journey home. Such is the picnic.

Farm Crops for August

With the August issue the publishers announce an increase of eight pages in size for "Farm Crops" magazine. The August "Harvest" number is brim full of timely and instructive articles.

The leading article, "Good Reads the West's Great Crying Needs," by G. B. Curran, B.S.A., is particularly interesting at the present time in view of the good roads agitation that is being carried on not only in Western Canada but all over America. The reports of the Winnipeg and Brandon Exhibits are especially interesting. A timely illustrated article entitled "The Care of the Mechanism of a Self Binder," by F. W. Hunt, will appeal strongly to farmers just before harvest. "Spraying to Kill Weeds," an exhaustive article by Prof. J. E. Hewitt, gives the result of recent investigations carried on at the Ontario Agricultural College. Other strong articles are "Silos and Silage" by C. M. Evans; "Winter Poultry Houses for Western Canada," "The Champion Six Horse Team of the World," and "Hardy Shrubs for Saskatchewan" by Angus MacKay, Superintendent of the Experimental Farm, Indian Head. In addition, numerous agricultural topics are discussed.

The Home Section is particularly strong, "Farm vs. City Life" is amply treated in the women's column. The new fall fashions are illustrated on the fashion page. In fiction the magazine is the strongest yet attempted by any Canadian publication. "Confession" a tale of tramp days, by Jack London, and "The River Boss," a realistic episode in the lumber regions of Michigan, told in vivid fashion by Stewart Edward White, are the head-liners. In addition there are five good short stories. The Ginger Jar, by Frank Howell Evans; The Fall of a Coin, by C. Randolph Litchfield; My Lady Gadfly, by L. Fleming Struthers; A Summer Girl, by Helen Mathers; and the Air Pirates, a story for children, by Moolie Priestly, complete the list.

The issue is profusely illustrated with over forty half-tone engravings and fully sustains the publishers claim that it is the finest illustrated and best printed farm magazine published in America for the price of subscription.

EFFECTS OF U.S. TARIFF

THE NEW BILL WILL AFFECT FEW LINES OF COMMERCE

Important Changes Only Regarding Lumber, Hides and Coal, and in Other Respects Will Not Likely Affect Trade Conditions—Canadian Exporters are Assured of a Market for all Products

Ottawa.—Now that the Payne tariff bill has finally passed the United States congress, its effects upon the commercial relationship between Canada and the republic are being discussed here. The cabinet ministers who one exception are out of the city, but as was stated at the time of the budget speech, developments at Washington have been watched, and what action will be taken by the Canadian parliament in view of the new tariff is relating to this country will be one of the first things discussed when the ministers return.

Those who have closely followed events at Washington and scanned the schedules of the new tariff, see important changes only as regards lumber, hides and coal. In other respects, while there are incidental changes, they are not of such a character as to be likely to materially affect the volume of trade conditions. Generally speaking there has been no particular changes except in those cases, and the prohibitive principle of the McKinley tariff has undergone little change.

The retaliatory tariff which is viewed in the light of a stroke against Canada, and its effect will be especially felt in the lumber trade, the whole with the exception of the items mentioned, the new tariff produces little effect upon the volume of trade conditions. Generally speaking there has been no particular changes except in those cases, and the prohibitive principle of the McKinley tariff has undergone little change.

Storage Dam on Saskatchewan
Edmonton, Alta.—To meet the demands of the local lumber men for protection of logs on the banks of the river in high water, from which the losses have been very heavy during the past few years, the government has authorized the construction of a storage dam on the Saskatchewan.

Pugsley, minister of public works for the Dominion, in conference with the lumber men at a point 50 miles from here. Work will be completed in time for the next winter's cut. Mr. Pugsley is here making arrangements for construction of work on the Saskatchewan post office and armories.

Bleriot May Visit Canada
Montreal, M. B.—Bleriot may be seen in his aeroplane in Montreal. Since his successful flight across the English channel the aviator has been in everybody's mouth in the French quarter of the city. A native of France who has a slight acquaintance with him has taken the matter up and has written to M. Bleriot making him an offer to come to Canada. He plans include flights at Blue Bonnets track and a lecture on aviation in the Monument National. M. Bleriot may arrive in flight, in order to secure a cup offered by the auto club for the first aircraft to land on the island.

Antarctic Expedition for Next Year
Los Angeles, Cal.—Capt. Rowland W. Webster, who is appointed by the Royal Geographical society to lead an expedition to the South Pole, has left here for New York to prepare the ship for the expedition. He will begin next August. Notification came to Capt. Webster just as he reached San Francisco on his twenty-first journey around the world. Capt. Webster earned his title in the Southern and Lord Kitchener. He also served in the Boer war.

Colonies and State-Owned Cables
London.—Premier Walter New Zealand, interviewed by the Chronicle, said that the reduction in cable rates was one of the most pressing questions of the hour. Cables should be state-owned, and he was hopeful that the existing conditions would not last long. Premier Walter also said he would like very much to see the All Red Route established.

Treating Ore by Electricity
Ottawa.—Dr. Haanel, of the Mines branch of the government, will in a few days issue a report favoring the encouragement of treating ore by electricity in Canada as a result of observations made in Sweden and elsewhere. Dr. Haanel has been studying the treatment of ore in Canada, owing to the amount of water available will be less even than in Sweden.

$75,000 Yearly for Ex-Shah's Jewels
Tehran.—It is understood that the government has now offered Mohammed Ali the cash value of the jewels of $75,000 on condition that he will deliver up the jewels enumerated in the National Gazette. The offer informs the government how he disposed of the missing gems. It is believed that Mohammed Ali will accept this new offer.

OUR ORGANIZED ARMY

Canada Could Put 100,000 Men in the Field—In Time of Danger Would
Do Duty—Tie of Empire

London.—The delegates to the Imperial Defence conference were entertained at dinner by the United Services club, Major-General Arbuthnot presiding.

Sir Frederick Borden, in reply to a toast to the guests said some few years ago the forces in Canada were an unorganized mob, they had not their different departments of army in the Dominion and could put at once 50,000 men in the field and in a few weeks another 50,000. (Cheers).

They were also going to try and do their duty with regard to the navy. If at any moment Canada were convinced that there was danger or risk they would do as they did at the time of the South African war. They would come to the rescue of the empire with all the money they could get and all the men that might be necessary to man the imperial army and fleets. They were going to begin at once to do their duty by the foundation of a navy which would co-operate with and be part of the British navy.

General Borden, South African, said blood was thicker than water, yet in another sense there was something that was thicker than blood. The tie of empire was even greater and stronger. He hoped as time went on that it would be a tie that would not be broken. The tie of blood which held the empire together, but the tie of community of interests, justice.

Japan Issues Ultimatum to China

Tokyo.—The controversy between Japan and the An Tung Muklen railway is the principal topic discussed by the newspapers and press organs. The statement that Japan issued an ultimatum to China.

The reason for this is that it is untrue, that Japan is bringing great pressure to bear upon the government at Peking to accept such action as would necessitate the form of an ultimatum in dealing with the problem involved. Immediate cessation of work on the reconstruction of the road without China's consent would precipitate a crisis. It is understood the limit for consideration of the question expires within a few days, but indications now are that the government will not accept such action which will prevent further friction and possibly lead to a settlement of all outstanding questions.

A Navy on the Pacific

London.—The Times Sydney correspondent writes that the industrial development of the naval resources of the dominions under a common training system accepted and by practically the whole community as an attainable ideal. The principle of co-ordination of naval efforts in pursuance of a common imperial policy seems to have been with the suggestion recently discussed that the Pacific should be protected and controlled by Canada, Australia and New Zealand in conjunction with Britain. The proposed joint contribution offered by Australia and New Zealand on a similar principle regarding the trade routes of the Indian and Pacific oceans is most acceptable here to all parties. The press freely expresses the expression of opinions till the result of the defence conference is known.

Tuberculous Children

Chicago.—Thirty school children of the Stockyards district "preposited" to tuberculosis will enter Chicago's first outdoor school and will spend six weeks in a tent colony in an attempt to cure the disease. The present stage of the white plague. The school will be managed jointly by the Chicago Tuberculosis association and the board of education as an experiment looking forward to the opening of one or more "cold room" fresh air schools for tuberculous next year.

Emigration of Children

London.—In the House of Commons questioned regarding the emigration of a batch of children between eight and fifteen years of age to Canada. John Burns, president of the board of trade, said very young children who are orphaned or derelict should be emigrated, but he saw no objection to those mentioned being sent to Canada under the care of proper agencies.

Ozar's Visit Over

Cairo, Egypt.—King Nicholas has ended his visit with King Edward and sailed away with the czarina and his entourage by a guarding squadron of Russian warships. Before sailing the czar received a deputation representing the city of London which presented him with an address and an engraved golden casket.

South African Warrants

Ottawa.—According to returns just issued the militia department has issued 6,250 land warrants, 2,000 certificates and the interior department 6,250 land warrants. This leaves very few to be issued. There have been 5,000 men went to South Africa, some of them for the second term.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier Invited to Alberta

Ottawa.—Sir Wilfrid Laurier has been invited by Premiers Rutherford and Brown of Alberta to visit the province respectively to lay the corner stones of the parliament buildings of the new town of Edmonton. The premier is being urged to accept.

WANT WAR WITH CHINA

MILITARY AUTHORITIES WOULD WELCOME WAR WITH CHINA

Stated that Japan would invade China if Other Powers Would Permit It—Attitude of Japan Towards China Said to be More or Less Determining. Chinese Show Signs of Retaliation

Victoria, B. C.—"China would be invaded tomorrow by Japan were it not for the fact that the military oligarchy which really rules Japan knows full well the powers would not permit war," said W. J. Brynes, for many years a resident at Tokio, and for some time interpreter at the U. S. legation, who arrived from Yokohama recently.

"The Japanese military authorities would welcome a war with China and would invade the middle kingdom to force the country to pay the indemnity the powers would not permit it. The Japanese know the weakness of China, but the country is divided and the great ambition of many Japanese is that Japan should take China and rule the great country as Great Britain rules India. That is their dream, but it is a dream that will never be realized. The attitude of Japan towards China is not less determining, but this is the only way in which questions with China can be handled with success."

Tokio newspapers received by the Tinn, postal telegrams describing recent action of the An Tung Muklen railway is the principal topic discussed by the newspapers and press organs. The statement that Japan issued an ultimatum to China.

The reason for this is that it is untrue, that Japan is bringing great pressure to bear upon the government at Peking to accept such action as would necessitate the form of an ultimatum in dealing with the problem involved. Immediate cessation of work on the reconstruction of the road without China's consent would precipitate a crisis. It is understood the limit for consideration of the question expires within a few days, but indications now are that the government will not accept such action which will prevent further friction and possibly lead to a settlement of all outstanding questions.

Fishery Regulations

Vancouver, B. C.—Prof. David Starr Jordan, who has returned from the north, says that the new international fishery regulations will not divide the fishery, but will go into effect till 1911. Their provisions will be published in December, 1909, and interested parties will be given notice by the government.

Mails and Imported Nursery Stock

Ottawa.—The post office department has, at the instance of the minister of agriculture, issued a warning to postmasters to prevent the delivery of nursery stock shipped into Canada known to be infested with various insect pests, and therefore the department of agriculture has requested the post office department to take every precaution to prevent the delivery of nursery stock until after they have been thoroughly inspected, and if necessary fumigated by the proper authorities.

Prohibition in Alabama

Montgomery, Ala.—The Carmichael state wide prohibition bill, which is generally believed to be one of the most drastic anti-liquor bills on record, passed the Alabama state legislature by a vote of 75 to 19. Governor McIlwain will sign it when passed by the senate, which favors the measure.

Government Will Wireless

Ottawa.—The minister of the marine department said the government will not consider the offer of the United Wireless Telegraph company to lay a cable from Vancouver to the Pacific coast. In addition to the five already there the government will build three more this season, with a view to commercial and signal work.

General Strike May Be Called in Spain

Cordoba, France.—It is reported here that a general strike is ready to break out in Spain owing to the refusal of Albert de Sarrailh to allow demonstrations against the war in Morocco and in favor of the release of the Moroccan prisoners of war.

Starting Line to Calgary

Edmonton.—Work will be begun at once on the starting line to Calgary. G. T. P. south from Toild towards Calgary. The contract has been awarded to J. A. McLeod & Co., of Winnipeg, to George H. Webster.

LABOR IS SCARCE

General Manager of Grand Trunk
Pacific Talks on Conditions
In the West

Ottawa.—E. J. Chamberlain, general manager of the Grand Trunk Pacific, states that work on the various sections of the Transcontinental was being rapidly pushed forward. On the main line tracks were now laid forty miles west of Edmonton. Twenty-three stations were being erected and the round-houses and shops were at Edmonton. Mr. Chamberlain, "fully one hundred miles have been graded in the mountain sections from the west end, and this month we are letting work on 130 miles more of that section, and probably 100 miles at the east end."

"Up till now labor has been plentiful but recently a great many have gone to work in the harvest. In fact, I expect we will be almost paralyzed until harvesting operations are over. Farmers in some places are offering as high as five dollars a day and board. There are many settlers coming in this year."

"Yes they are simply pouring in all along the line. A great deal of new land is being broken now for next year. The vast majority of the settlers arriving are Americans. They are coming in by thousands with their families, have a great supply of money and start right in to work all the day they arrive. The continental immigrants nearly all flock to the cities and towns, very few taking up land."

Enthusiasm Over West

Ottawa.—Hon. Charles Murphy has returned from the west, and expresses his enthusiasm over the progress which that portion of Canada has made since he saw it three years ago. He said that it appeared to him most as if a great country would be made of it. It was the schools. The school was the most important institution in the little towns. They were architectural, beautiful and splendidly conducted schools. Elevators were everywhere.

Murphy was emphatic in his belief that Port Arthur and Port William together would be in process of time grow to be the greatest city not only in Canada, but in America. He was insisting it was in the heart of Vancouver.

The secretary of state thinks highly of United States immigration. He said that it was as far as the nationality of Canada is concerned.

These people, he found, adopt themselves quickly to conditions in their new country, and become enthusiastic Canadians. Only in Winnipeg did he hear of the line of July being celebrated this year, whereas last year it was celebrated by Americans everywhere, with far more enthusiasm than by people of this country.

Nowhere did he hear anything of the imperial defence question. One man had put it to him: "We want our cars, and not Dronchoughts." and he found to be the spirit of the west. He found the west extremely for low tariff. At the coast he could discover no interest in the question of Japanese immigration at present.

Suit for Damages Against Meat Trust

New York.—Arthur & Co., Swift & Co. and Armour & Co., the Chicago packers, are making a demand of $100,000 in a complaint filed under the provisions of the Sherman anti-trust act, by the members of the Chicago New York Butchers' Dressing Meat company, who seek to recover $1,500,000 damages. The demand is the first move in a suit originally made two years ago, and it is essentially a protest against the management of the company's affairs, which it is asserted, has been dictated by the packers, ever since when they bought a controlling interest and sealed their own directions.

French Canadians Stand by Empire

London.—At a luncheon tendered the Canadian boy tourists recently at Edinburgh, Mr. Muir MacKenzie, in referring to French-Canadians said their number three millions and would stand by the empire in time of trouble. Referring to the fact that the stars and stripes were to be seen waving over various buildings in Edinburgh, Mr. MacKenzie said that the French-Canadians would stay in a hotel in Canada unless the Union Jack was flying. The only thing he found to be a people of this country was that they had not enough enthusiasm to wave the old flag.

Oil Fuel for Colorado Railroads

Salt Lake, Utah.—The trial of an oil burning locomotive on the Southern Pacific division between Sparks and Carson, Nevada, has proved so satisfactory that the company has decided to retire all the coal burning engines on that division. The change will be made immediately.

Railway Men Adopt Gosh Scheme

Edmonton.—The International Brotherhood of Railway Men and Engineers at their annual convention decided to adopt a new scheme for a school of correspondence for the members. The plan gives to all at a minimum cost educational advantages hitherto unobtainable.

Western Grain Inspection

Ottawa.—Figures prepared by the grain inspection branch of the department of trade and commerce show that for seven months ending July 21, 1909, 600,000 bushels of grain were inspected in the Canadian west.

King Manuel for England

Lisbon.—It is reported that King Manuel has accepted King Edward's invitation to visit England. King Manuel leaves for England in a few days.

KITCHENER PROMOTED

IS NOW INSPECTOR-GENERAL
AND ALSO FIELD-MARSHAL

Succeeds Duke of Connaught as Inspector-General of the Mediterranean Forces—Is Intended to Coordinate all the Military Forces of the Empire and Place Lord Kitchener at the Head

London.—Lord Kitchener, commander of the British forces in India, has been appointed to succeed the Duke of Connaught as inspector-general of the Mediterranean forces, which post the duke recently resigned on the ground of "the ineffective nature of the work and the useless expense to the nation involved therein." Lord Kitchener will take the rank of field-marshal, and also become a member of the committee on Imperial defence. The Duke of Connaught has command of the garrisons at Malta and Gibraltar, and all the British troops in Egypt, the Sudan and Cyprus.

The appointment of Lord Kitchener is consistent with added importance being attached to the post. The Duke of Connaught, in an official announcement, said: "In view of new developments in the organization, the Mediterranean command assumes increased importance, and will be taken up by Lord Kitchener with the object of giving it its proper place in the scheme of imperial defence."

It is understood that as a result of the Imperial defence movement which is now sitting, it is intended to coordinate all the military forces of the empire, and place Lord Kitchener at the head of an organization having the imperial army for its special care. As a preparation for this, Lord Kitchener will go to Japan to represent Great Britain at the Japanese grand maneuvers, and will also be making a tour of Canada, Australia and New Zealand to study the military conditions in those countries. The colonial governments concerning Lord Kitchener, who became 50 years of age on June 1, the youngest field-marshal in the history of Great Britain. Lord Roberts was sixty years old when he was raised to the rank, and Lord Kitchener is 52.

Decrease in Cigarette Smokers

Ottawa.—A million less cigarettes smoked in Canada last year than the year before. The decline was estimated by the statistics of 10 years or under. And to be entirely due to the restrictive legislation put into effect by parliament by the government during the last year. It is believed that the law actually prevented the smoking of from 40 to 50 million cigarettes every year. As the consumption was increasing and it had not been for the law, the consumption would have increased from 10 to 20 millions instead of a decrease of 30 millions. This is a fair assumption as the consumption was increasing each year and during six years prior to 1908 the increase amounted to over 75,000,000.

Government Takes Over Naval Yard

Vancouver.—The Esquimalt naval yard will be formally taken over by the imperial government at the end of this month and arrangements are now being made by the Hon. Mr. Currier, (Ex-Minister) Crawford, R. N., for the transfer.

Arrangements have been in progress for some time past to this end, and Mr. P. Brodie, and Admiral Currier, who have been in England, have reached an understanding with the admiralty concerning the arrangements for the transfer. The admiralty has received authorizing the transfer, the date being set for the end of this month. The admiralty will take the naval yard entirely, a corner being set aside for the use of the vessels stationed here. The rest of the marine and fisheries department will form a base at Esquimalt.

Bounty Fed Iron is Unfair to Britain

London.—Respecting Canadian bounty fed steel, the Glasgow Herald says a grave question, it is right, it wants to know, from an Imperial viewpoint, that Canada should grant bounty to her iron and steel industry, imported in competition with the mother country, if it is to be fair against the British iron. This question of bounty fed iron is a question in the Empire will have to be fought out. It should be one of the subjects taken up with the cabinet at the next Imperial conference.

Reciprocity Checked

London.—The Morning Post remarks that the important movement towards the West Indian reciprocity which is contained in the Payne tariff law.

Western Grain Inspection

Ottawa.—Figures prepared by the grain inspection branch of the department of trade and commerce show that for seven months ending July 21, 1909, 600,000 bushels of grain were inspected in the Canadian west.

(To late for last week)

P. Rieder and family are expected to arrive this week, to visit their son Rieder. We understand they expect to spend the summer here.

Henry Bergen has the contract to move a house off the old Claus Peter farm at Berlin to Elmer Rieder's farm here. He expects to move in this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Vahler from near Didsbury spent Sunday here among friends.

Mr. Abel a student of Naperville College, preaches here every alternate Sunday. This with the regular service held by Rev. D. Rieder gives us a weekly service.

A hail storm passed over this vicinity slightly damaging the crops.

Rainy weather for the past few days.

Crops Swept by Hail

The first disastrous hail storm in the history of the district passed over Lacombie Sunday evening and was extensively destructive to winter wheat and oat crops. The storm passed over north of the town moving down the vegetation in a strip nearly fifteen miles long and two miles wide.

Mr. M. B. Stearns, recently of this city, but now Adventist land agent at Lacombie, was up from the south this week and spoke to the Plaindealer of the destructive nature of the storm. Numerous splendid fields of winter wheat that stood almost ready for the harvester were beaten into utter destruction by the fusillade of hailstones. Oats and other grains fared equally as bad. Window panes fell in numbers before the onslaught and chickens were killed before they could reach cover.

Mr. Stearns said the crop losses will be very heavy as practically none of the farmers carried insurance. The storm followed a northwesterly course and missed the experimental farm south of the town.

I beg to announce to the residents of Didsbury that I have opened a

Looking over Country for Elevator Sites

J. D. Stafford, superintendent, and L. M. Leach, manager of the Northern Elevator Company of Winnipeg, were in the City yesterday, on their way north. They report that the crops at the different places they visited in the province are in excellent condition and that there is every promise of an abundant harvest.

The Northern Elevator Company has recently purchased elevators at Namaka, Langdon, Shepard, Aldersyde, Woodhouse and Olds, and the object of the visit of Messrs. Stafford and Leach is to look over the country for other suitable locations for the erection of elevators.

Canada's International Exposition

During the week, visits to Winnipeg were made by Mr. Mark Cohen, a leading editor of Dunedin, New Zealand, and Dr. F. W. Ward, editor of the Daily Telegraph, of Sydney, Australia, and conferences held by the Exposition Committee with these gentlemen, make it highly probable that both New Zealand and Australia will make extensive exhibits at Canada's Exposition. Both Mr. Cohen and Dr. Ward spoke in the most laudatory terms of Canada and the West, and promised to use their best endeavors toward securing the endorsement of their respective countries for the Exposition.

Sunshine grates have maximum strength

Sunshine Furnace has four triangular grate bars, each having three distinct sides. In the single-piece and two-piece grate no such-like provision is made for expansion or contraction, and a waste of coal always follows a shaking.

On the left- and right-hand sides are cotter pins, which when loosened permit the grates to slide out. These four grate bars are made of heavy cast iron, and are finished up with building teeth. The teeth will grind up the toughest clinker, and because the grates are made in sections, not only can nothing but dust and ashes pass through, but after each shaking a different side can be presented to the fire. Also, with the Sunshine grate there is no back-breaking movements attached to the shaking. By gently rocking the lever, first on the left and then on the right, the ashes are released on both sides, and fall through into the pan.

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh that Contain Mercury.

as mercury will destroy the power of small glands to throw off poisons, and thus render them more susceptible to the action of the poisons themselves. It is a well known fact that the glands of the skin are the most important organs of the system, and that a catarrh of the skin is a serious disease. It is therefore essential that any ointment used for the cure of catarrh should be free from mercury. Minard's Liniment is the only ointment of the kind that is free from mercury.

Minard's Liniment Co., Limited.

Gentlemen,—In June, I had my hand and wrist bitten and badly mangled by a vicious horse. I suffered greatly for several days and the tooth cuts refused to heal until your agent gave me a bottle of MINARD'S LINIMENT, which I began using. The effect was magical; in five hours the pain had ceased and in two weeks the wounds had completely healed and my hand and arm were as well as ever.

Yours truly,
A. E. ROY,
St. Antoine, P.Q. Carriage Maker.

"More than 5,000 elephants a year go to make our piano keys," remarked the student boarder who had been reading the scientific and medical part of the medicine almanac. "For the last's sake," exclaimed the landlady, "Ain't it wonderful what some animals can be trained to do?"—Chicago News.

Practically all Canadian druggists grocers and general dealers sell Wilson's Fly Pals. If your stockkeeper does not, ask him why.

"Better and an inspector down to see what the matter with this man's meter," said the cashier in the gas company's office to the superintendent. "Oh," began the superintendent. "We throw complaints about meters." "This is no complaint. He sends a cheque for the amount of his bill, and says it's 'very reasonable'!"

Two friends who had not seen each other for several years met, again, unexpectedly, as neighbors in a new suburban place. "Hallo, 'Binks! Who are you working for now?" asked Simkins, over the garden fence. "Same ole, same ole," was the cheery answer. "A wife and five children."

Number of Motor Car.

A class of small boys was being taken on a history. "Now, then," said the teacher, "Julius Caesar invaded Britain in 55 B.C. Teddy Jones, what does B.C. mean?" "Please, sir, I 'spects that was the number of his motor car."

Step-ladder in Wrong.

Bob and Jim were Jacks of all trades and worked together. One summer's morning Bob came round to Jim's house at the early hour of 3 and managed to wake him.

"Now, then," he cried, "hurry up. There's a big factory chimney wants pulling down about a mile away from here, and I got the tip from the factory foreman that if we could knock twenty feet off it before the authorities get about it would save the factory the expense of a scaffold and it would mean a five pound note apiece for you and me."

"What, he?" cried Jim. "Let's go!" Their destination reached, they climbed to the top of the chimney, and soon masses of brickwork were falling to earth. A man who lived near was disturbed by the noise and started to make a fuss. "Here, Bob," cried Jim, "you climb down and quiet that fellow. Keep him talking while I finish this job up here." So Bob climbed down and engaged the indignant man in conversation.

Suddenly Jim heard Bob calling to him and, looking down, saw his friend gesticulating wildly and beckoning him to come down. So down Jim came. "What's the matter?" he asked. "Let's go home, Jim, thundering quick. We're being pulled down the wrong chimney!"—London Answers.

Indignant.

D'Auber is a big, healthy, bearded man who looks as though he could lift half hundredweights in each hand as easily as he picks up his palette.

An elderly rustic, who had been standing watching him painting by the roadside, approached him.

"No offense, sir," he began, "but is there anything the matter w' yer?"

"No," answered D'Auber. "What makes you ask?"

"Yer hair! Is me, yer?"

"Lame! Good gracious, no!"

"Yer hair! Is a misfortune in any way, the clutter or lumberage that's kind of laid yer by?"

"No, I'm as well as I have always been."

The rustic drew himself up and gazed scornfully at the artist.

"An' yer call yerself a man an' an' call that a doin' of that?" he said. "Well, I'm blest!"—Exchange.

Finest Peal in Canada.

The congregation of Christ Church at Etobicoke has been delighted at a magnificent gift made by J. L. Englehart, Chairman of the Temiskaming and Northern Ontario Railway Commission, of the finest peal of bells in Canada, not exceeding Toronto and Montreal. The gift includes a home for the bells, which will be added to the present tower, and a new porch and steps for the church. The gift is in memory of the late Mrs. Englehart, who filled a high place in the hearts of the congregation.

Amazing Gratitude.

An amusing story is told by one of the captains of a team of collectors for the Montreal Y.M.C.A. fund. He and a friend called on one of Montreal's wealthiest merchants, who recounted to them very warmly, and recounted all that the Y.M.C.A. had done for him. He concluded: "Yes, gentlemen, all that I have and all that I am I owe to the Y.M.C.A. Put me down for $5."

Judge Pays Damages.

A claim for ninepence—balance of wage due—was recently made by a workman at Leicester Court, London. In order to save the time of the court, the presiding magistrate himself paid the sum in dispute.

The Long Wait.

"It took you over an hour to serve that order of frogs' legs," grumbled the impatient guest.
"But there are so many orders ahead, monsier," apologized the garcon.
"Indeed! Well, the next time I'll order tadpoles and perhaps they will be frogs when they get here!"—Pittsburg Post.

BABY'S HOLD ON LIFE.

Baby's Own Tablets cost 25 cents a box. A box bought now may save baby's life. Summer complaints come suddenly, and carry away thousands of little ones every year. If the stomach and bowels are kept in order there is little danger of these troubles coming on. Baby's Own Tablets is the best medicine in the world for preventing and curing stomach and bowel troubles. They can be given with perfect safety to the newborn baby or to the willow grown child. An occasional dose of the Tablets will regulate stomach and bowels and prevent summer complaints. The mother who keeps these Tablets beside her has a reasonable assurance that her little ones are safe. If you have not got a box of Tablets, get one without delay. Do not wait until trouble comes, it may then be too late. Sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Literary Note

"You write too much," said the critic to the author.
"But, my friend," replied the author, "I have to write for my readers."
"How about your readers?"
"Ah, well—we were all born to die!"—Atlanta Constitution.

Ready-made Medicine.—You need no physician for ordinary ills when you have at hand a bottle of Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil. For coughs, colds, sore throat, bronchial troubles, it is invaluable; for colds, lumbago, sprains it is unsurpassed, useful for cuts, sores, ulcers and the like. It is an unquestionable healer. It needs no testimonial other than the use, and that will satisfy anyone as to its effectiveness.

"I suppose," said a sympathetic neighbor, "that you will erect a handsome monument to your husband's memory?" "To his memory?" echoed the faithful widow. "Why, poor John hasn't any. I was never over one of his clothes today, and I found the pockets full of the letters I had given him to post."

If every housekeeper would use Wilson's Fly Pals freely during the Summer months the house would be kept free of a pest that would be a thing of the past.

Etiquette at Covent Garden.

Etiquette at Covent Garden is almost as strict as that which prevails in the servants' hall of a great mansion, says London M. A. P. No prima donna must be addressed by an inferior, and the presentation of bouquets is a delicate matter, regulated with due regard for the feelings of the ladies. The claque still prevails; but, as only the less eminent singers employ these "aids to success," nobody is ever deceived. The management knows nothing of these men, who are hired by the singers to go into the gallery and applaud their employers vociferously. The custom is very common on the continent, where it also takes the more objectionable form of hiring men to hiss rivals off the stage. Happily that sort of thing would not be tolerated in England, and so the claque is confined to the minor members of the company, who bring over with them an insatiable desire for applause and are so determined to get it that they leave nothing to chance. The claqueurs receive a fee of 2 shillings, in addition to the payment for their seats.

Couldn't Pass Him.

Dr. Chas. Munn took in 1893 or 1894 was making a professional call one night at a road house, his horse and buggy standing outside, when a young fellow staggered out and mounted the horse and started off at a wild gallop, not noticing the wagon attached to the horse. After a time the wagon man realized that a wagon was following close in his rear, so he held in the steed and shouted:

"Go on past if you want to—if you're not afraid to let him in."

Of course the rattling ceased, and nobody responded, and nothing was visible in the darkness, so he leaned the horse and a gallop and saying, "They'll never overtake us." The wagon stalled on behind up hill and down dale. When Dr. Munn overhauled him, having followed on a feet horse, the young fellow said:

"I was bound that man in the wagon should not pass, because he wouldn't let me offered to let him, I don't beat him now, and I guess he drove off the bridge."—Newark News.

Meal Monday.

The students in the Scotch universities annually enjoy their "Meal Monday," but few of the undergraduates remember when the holiday was instituted. In former days, when wearing was really nourished on "a little oatmeal," the students before leaving home for the university provided themselves with a quantity of meal sufficient to make "business parties" half through the session. By the end of January the "mealists" had run low, and "a day off" was given in which the student was expected to journey halfway home, meeting at this point his parents or brother, who brought with him a second load of the staple diet. The holiday was fixed on a Monday so as to allow the undergraduate to be home on the preceding Saturday. In times past the journeys would often extend to fifty or sixty miles. The modern student goes home for "Meal Monday," but he travels with a week end ticket and has no thought of the painful journeys of his ancestors.—Dundee Advertiser.

The Biggest Cracker.

The "kanak" torta was our world "tart" from Torta of Hispano-America. The biggest and the most cracker on earth. It is made from the kanak tort and lightly fried in cakes about the size of a small paper.

A cracker for a hat—such indeed is sometimes the use made by the Latin people of the kanak torta when wearing a temporary sunshade (sombrero). The torta is always made bowl shaped so it can be balanced on the head without any particular effort—and provided no wind intrudes. Hain, however, quickly sinks and collapses this singular edible headgear.

In Regular Order.

A miner took his boots for repairs, but was not in a hurry to pay for them. After a few weeks had elapsed the shoemaker called and asked for the money.

The miner's wife answered the door, and on being told by the shoemaker that he had called for the money for the boots she shouted into the house and told her good man what was required.

"What?" exclaimed the miner. "He wants paying for repairing the boots? Well, it's not his boots, it's mine. The man that made them hasn't got paid yet!"—London Scraps.

Dusty Explains.

"You clunker may" blurted the Irish housewife. "What do you mean by falling against the stone dog in the yard and breaking off his tail?"

"Indeed, I didn't," replied Dusty Dennis. "De canine was so glad to see me he wagged his tail, and it snapped."—Chicago News.

Kidney Suffering IN THE SPRING

Backaches and tired feelings told of weak kidney action—Prompt relief by using DR. CHASE'S KIDNEY-LIVER PILLS.

No organs of the body are so susceptible to the quickly changing temperature of spring as the kidneys. Sudden cold waves mean chilling of the surface of the body, closing of the pores of the skin and over-crowding of the kidneys at a time when they are already overworked in an effort to free the system of the accumulated poisons of winter.

The tired druggery feelings you experience and the weakness and pains in the back tell of a poisoned system and defective kidneys.

There is no treatment for kidney disease which will afford you relief so quickly as Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills and none which will so certainly cure the most complicated forms of this disease.

There is a reason for this. Dr. Chase's Pills saw to it that they should act on the liver and bowels as well as the kidneys, and thereby effect a thorough cleansing and regulating of the whole excretory system.

In this combined action Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills are unique. There are no substitutes or imitations which possess this principle.

Mrs. F. O. Bacon, Baldwin's Mills, Que., writes:—"I was laid up in spring. The doctors said I must go to the hospital for an operation but I didn't want it. My liver and kidneys were not acting and I suffered terribly. I then began using Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, and in a few days I was able to get up and am now fully cured and doing my own work for a family of seven."

In Anticipation

Mrs. Green—You have never taken me to the cemetery.
Mr. Green—No, my dear; I still have that pleasure in anticipation.—Judge.

Relief for the Depressed.—Physical and mental depression usually have their origin in a disordered state of the stomach and liver, as when these organs are deranged in their action the whole system is affected. Try Minard's Vegetable Pills. They regulate the digestive system, and thereby act on the nerves and restore the spirits as no other pills will. They are cheap, simple and sure, and the effects are lasting.

She—Whenever you meet me you just give me a curly hair.
She—I feel like wearing.

"And do you really love me, George?" she asked. "Love you?" he replied. "I love you," he replied. "Why, while I was holding you gently on the porch last night, dear, the fog hit a large chunk out of my leg, and I never noticed it until I got home. Love you?"

It is an undisputed fact that one packet of Wilson's Fly Pals has actually killed a bushel of house flies. Fortunately no such quantity can ever be found in any one house, but whether they be few or many Wilson's Fly Pals will kill them all.

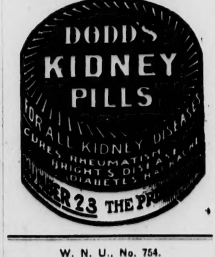

"Did you ever catch your husband flirting?"
"Yes; that was the way I did catch him."

Kindheart—"So your father's ill and he'll work 'til he's very hard to have the breadwinner ill." The Kid—"Yes, sir, but it might 'a' been worse; he's a butter-an'-cheese-an'-meat-an'-latter-an'-coals-an'-boots-an'-clothes-an'-rent-winner all in one."

Costiveness and its Cure.—When the excretory organs refuse to perform their duty, the system becomes clogged. This is known as costiveness and if neglected gives rise to dangerous complications. Pathetic's Vegetable Pills afford a speedy cure. At the first intimation of this ailment the sufferer should procure a packet of the pills and put himself under a course of treatment. The good effects of the pills will be almost immediately evident.
